Annual Pedestrian Safety Forum

- Thursday, August 4, 2022
  - Intent is for event to be in-person with virtual option
  - TTI will defer to state and local guidelines regarding pandemic
- Call for presenters and/or session ideas is open:
  - <https://www.texaspedfsafety.org/call-for-presenters-2022-texas-pedestrian-safety-forum/>

Session Topic Ideas

- Metrics associated with enhancements in street safety (i.e., changes in crash/fatality rates associated with changes in street design and/or driver/pedestrian behavior).
- Working with local decision makers to apply safer policies and funding priorities.
- Crash Modification Factors (CMF) development for ped and bike crashes.
- Proven and innovative countermeasures and engineering solutions
- Implementing countermeasures equitably
- Design guidelines for usability, not just compliance
- Solutions and innovative approaches to pedestrian safety from other countries.
- Overcoming public education and enforcement challenges
- Pedestrian safety for youth
- School zone safety
- Law enforcement challenges and adaptations associated with the new pedestrian safety laws starting September 1, 2021.
- Policy and funding changes that are needed to support Road to Zero/Vision Zero goals.
- Discussions about trials/deployment of autonomous tech trials and pedestrian safety topics
- Creating off-system arterial corridors for ped/bikes
- Level of Comfort Analysis for Pedestrians
- How to measure functionality of infrastructure network for all abilities (above and beyond ADA minimums)
- Speed Management policies
- Consistent hands free / distracted driving policies for the entire state
- Equity implications of pedestrian safety initiatives

NCTCOG Safe Routes to School Efforts

Shawn Conrad, with North Central Texas Council of Governments provided an update on their Safe Routes to School efforts in the North Texas region. She provided an overview of their metropolitan planning organizations overall statistics, with 143 independent school districts (ISDs), projected population growth, and their Regional Transportation Policy Council Policy on Supporting School Districts.

Their initiatives involve:

- Sustainable development
- Overview of products developed
- State Farm SRTS Plan Grants, 2018
- Funding opportunities for STRS, with anticipated call for projects Summer 2022
- NCTCOG Policy Bundle using Transportation Development Credits (TDCs)
- Outlined upcoming activities

The full presentation can be found here starting on slide 9.

Youth Transportation Safety Program

Gabriella (Gaby) Kolodzy with Texas A&M Transportation Institute's Youth Transportation Safety Program presented on impacting safety culture.

A substantial overview of Texas teen driving contributors were shared as well as young pedestrian fatality and injury statistics were shared as well.

Specific teen pedestrian fatality and injury statistics, by county, were shared highlighting the problem of young pedestrian fatalities and injuries in Texas.

Please contact Gaby at g-kolodzy@tti.tamu.edu for a presentation specific to your county.

The full presentation can be found here starting on slide 34.

Stakeholder Updates

Laura Higgins provided an update from Neal Johnson, who was unable to attend the meeting. TTI is holding trainings for law enforcement on pedestrian and bicycle laws next week and still has some open slots for Monday afternoon 2pm-5pm. The training will be held at the TTI – Dallas office in North Dallas. Details and registration information can be found at this link:

- Resources Page For Law Enforcement on Pedestrian and Bicyclist Safety
<https://cts.tti.tamu.edu/lepedbike/>

More trainings are being planned for the Spring and Summer. If you know of a law enforcement agency in Texas that may be interested in this training.

Please contact Neal Johnson – neal-johnson@tti.tamu.edu. The classes are free and TCOLE credits are available.

Adjourn

The meeting adjourned at 11:16AM.
